SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Automated Commercial Environment (ACE)

A. The National Customs Automation Program

The National Customs Automation Program (NCAP) was established by Subtitle B of Title VI—Customs Modernization in the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act, Pub. L. 103-182, 107 Stat. 2057, 2170, December 8, 1993 (Customs Modernization Act). See 19 U.S.C. 1411. Through NCAP, the initial thrust of customs modernization was on trade compliance and the development of ACE, the planned successor to the Automated Commercial System (ACS). ACE is an automated and electronic system for commercial trade processing which is intended to streamline business processes, facilitate growth in trade, ensure cargo security, and foster participation in global commerce, while ensuring compliance with U.S. laws and regulations and reducing costs for CBP and all of its communities of interest. The ability to meet these objectives depends on successfully modernizing CBP's business functions and the information technology that supports those functions. CBP's modernization efforts are accomplished through phased releases of ACE component functionality designed to replace specific legacy ACS functions and add new functionality. Each release will begin with a test and, if the test is successful, will end with implementation of the functionality through the promulgation of regulations governing the new ACE feature and the retirement of the legacy ACS function.

For the convenience of the public, a chronological listing of Federal Register publications detailing ACE test developments is set forth below in Section X, entitled, "Development of ACE Prototypes." The procedures and criteria applicable to participation in the ACE Portal Account Test remain in effect unless otherwise explicitly changed by this notice.

B. ACE Portal Accounts

On May 1, 2002, the former U.S. Customs Service, now CBP, published a General Notice in the Federal Register (67 FR 21800) announcing a plan to conduct a NCAP test of the first phase of ACE. The test was described as the first step toward the full electronic processing of commercial importations with a focus on defining and establishing an importer's account structure. That General Notice announced that importers and authorized parties would be allowed to access their customs data via an Internet-based Portal Account. The notice also set forth eligibility criteria for companies interested in establishing ACE Portal Accounts.

Subsequent General Notices expanded the types of ACE Portal Accounts. On February 4, 2004, CBP published a General Notice in the Federal Register (69 FR 5360) that established ACE Truck Carrier Accounts. On September 8, 2004, CBP published a General Notice in the Federal Register (69 FR 54302) inviting customs brokers to participate in the ACE Portal Test generally and informing interested parties that once they had been notified by CBP that their request to participate in the ACE Portal Account Test had been accepted, they would be asked to sign and submit a Terms and Conditions document. CBP subsequently contacted those participants and asked them to also sign and submit an ACE Power of Attorney form and an Additional Account/Account Owner Information form. Most recently, on October 18, 2007, CBP published a General Notice in the Federal Register (72 FR 59105) announcing the expansion of the ACE portal account types to include the following types: Carriers (all modes: air, rail, sea); Cartman; Lighterman; Driver/Crew; Facility Operator; Filer; Foreign Trade Zone (FTZ) Operator; Service Provider; and Surety.

C. Terms and Conditions for Access to the ACE Portal

On May 16, 2007, CBP published a General Notice in the Federal Register (72 FR 27632) announcing a revision of the terms and conditions that must be followed as a condition for access to the ACE Portal. The terms and conditions in that Notice supersede and replace the Terms and Conditions document previously signed and submitted to CBP by ACE Portal Account Owners. The principal changes to the ACE Terms and Conditions included a revised definition of “Account Owner” to permit either an individual or a legal entity to serve in this capacity, new requirements relating to providing notice to CBP when there has been a material change in the status of the Account and/or Account Owner, and explanatory provisions as to how the information from a particular account may be accessed through the ACE Portal when that account is transferred to a new owner.

On July 7, 2008, CBP published a General Notice in the Federal Register (73 FR 38464) which revised the terms and conditions set forth in the May 16, 2007 Notice regarding the period of Portal inactivity which will result in termination of access to the ACE Portal. The July 7, 2008 Notice provided that if forty-five (45) consecutive days elapse without an Account Owner, Proxy Account Owner, or an Account User accessing the ACE Portal, access to the Portal will be terminated. The time period for allowable Portal inactivity was previously ninety (90) days.

D. ACE Non-Portal Accounts

CBP has also permitted certain parties to participate in ACE without establishing ACE Portal Accounts, i.e., “Non-Portal Accounts.” On October 24, 2005, CBP published a General Notice in the Federal Register (70 FR 61466) announcing that CBP would no longer require importers to establish ACE Portal Accounts in order to deposit estimated duties and fees as a part of Periodic Monthly Statement (PMS). CBP decided it would only require importers to establish a Non-Portal Account to participate in PMS. On March 29, 2006, CBP published another General Notice in the Federal Register (71 FR 15756) announcing that truck carriers who do not have ACE Portal Accounts may use third parties to transmit truck manifest information on their behalf electronically in the ACE Truck Manifest system via Electronic Data Interface (EDI) messaging. Truck carriers who elect to use this transmission method will not have access to operating data and will not receive status messages on ACE transactions, nor will they have access to integrated Account data from multiple system sources.

II. Automated Export System (AES)

AES is the electronic method for the U.S. Principal Party in Interest (USPPI) or its authorized agent to file export commodity and transportation information, known as Electronic Export Information (EEI), directly with CBP and the Census Bureau. EEI is the electronic equivalent to the Shipper's Export Declaration (SED), a paper form previously used by exporters to report export information.<sup>1</sup> The purpose of AES is to be the central point through which CBP collects and maintains export data and related records to facilitate CBP's law enforcement and border security missions. CBP uses EEI to further its mission of ensuring the safety and security of cargo and preventing smuggling, expediting legitimate international trade and enforcing export and other applicable U.S. laws.<sup>2</sup> The Census Bureau uses EEI to compile and publish export trade statistics.

On April 5, 2014, AES was re-engineered and incorporated into ACE. General information and a list of AES certified software vendors is available on the following website: <http://www.cbp.gov/trade/aes>. That website also has information regarding the

<sup>1</sup> The SED became obsolete in 2008 with the implementation of the Department of Commerce Foreign Trade Regulations (FTR) and has been superseded by the EEI filed in the AES. See 15 CFR 30.1. See also 19 CFR 192.14 regarding required EEI.

<sup>2</sup> Section 343(a) of the Trade Act of 2002, as amended (Trade Act) (19 U.S.C. 2071 note) requires CBP to promulgate regulations providing for mandatory transmission of electronic cargo information by way of a CBP-approved electronic data interchange (EDI) system before the cargo is brought into or departs from the United States by any mode of commercial transportation (i.e., sea, air, rail, or truck). 19 CFR 192.14 implements the requirements of the Trade Act with regard to cargo departing the United States. It requires the USPPI or its authorized agent to file any required EEI for the cargo.

AES Trade Interface Requirements (AESTIR) and the American National Standards Institute standard known as ANSI X.12, which contain the formatting requirements for the electronic transmission of commodity and transportation export data to CBP via AES. Additional information regarding AES is available under the “Getting Started” section of the website address provided above.

AES offers several options for transmitting export commodity and transportation data, which includes the choice of using software developed by the user, software purchased from a vendor, a Value Added Network (VAN) electronic mailbox, the facilities of a port authority or service center, or AESDirect, a free internet application supported by the Census Bureau. AESDirect came on-line in October 1999 and allows USPPIs or their authorized agents to file EEI free of charge using a variety of electronic transmission methods, the most popular of which is a web-based portal through which users may file any required EEI. AESDirect also provides USPPIs or their authorized agents with access to export reports that compile the data from EEI filings associated with a user account.

III. Authorization for Modification of the ACE Portal Account Test

The Customs Modernization Act authorizes the Commissioner of CBP to conduct limited test programs or procedures designed to evaluate planned components of the NCAP. The ACE Portal Account Test, as modified in this notice, is authorized pursuant to § 101.9(b) of title 19 of the Code of Federal Regulations (19 CFR 101.9(b)), which provides for the testing of NCAP programs or procedures. See Treasury Decision (T.D.) 95-21.

IV. Modification of the ACE Portal Account Test

This notice announces CBP’s plan to modify the ACE Portal Account Test to establish limited export functionality within the ACE Portal Account. Features of this new portal account type, as well as the eligibility and documentation requirements for applying for an ACE Exporter Portal Account, are described below.

A. Exporter Portal Accounts

1. Exporter Portal Account Functionality

The ACE Exporter Portal Account provides exporters a new “exporter view” to the ACE Portal that permits exporters to access the export data associated with an Employer Identification Number (EIN), i.e., Export Reports. The Exporter Portal Account provides access to an Export Reports workspace that contains approximately 120 data objects, which mirror the data previously available to exporters upon request from the Census Bureau. The workspace will contain three standard reports that will provide transaction data for account users. Users will be able to modify and save these reports to create custom queries as well as build and save new reports using any desired combination of data objects available based on data elements in each report.

Beginning no earlier than October 1, 2015, the ACE Exporter Account Portal will enable USPPs or their authorized agents to transmit EEI by selecting the “Submit AESDirect Filings” link in the exporter view. Selecting this link will direct USPPs or their authorized agents to a web page prompting users to accept the Terms and Conditions governing the use of ACE AESDirect. After accepting these Terms and Conditions, USPPs or their authorized agents will gain access to the AESDirect portal in ACE that will allow them to file their required EEI.

ACE AESDirect is intended to replace the legacy AESDirect operated by the Census Bureau and provide online internet filing and upload capabilities to facilitate the transmission of EEI. During the testing period of the ACE AESDirect portal, USPPIs or their authorized agents may continue to use legacy AESDirect for filing EEI. Once ACE AESDirect is fully operational, the Census Bureau plans to discontinue the legacy AESDirect filing application. AESDirect filing functionality through the ACE Exporter Account Portal will initially be available to certain USPPIs that have been selected by the Census Bureau. After this brief initial phase, CBP will announce the public availability of this functionality on its website at <http://www.cbp.gov/trade/automated>.

2. Overview of Exporter Portal Account Creation

The owner of an ACE Exporter Portal Account will have the ability to create and maintain through the ACE Portal information regarding the name, address, and contact information for the corporate and individual account owner for the exporter account. Exporters will use the existing account structure established for the use of importers within the ACE portal.

New ACE users without an existing portal account will be required to apply for an ACE Exporter Portal Account, as explained in Section B.1 below. An application to establish an ACE Exporter Portal Account by new ACE users will initiate the approval process which requires the account owner to provide additional information required to complete the process. Before a new ACE user can establish an Exporter Portal Account, the Census Bureau must vet and approve prospective users.

Existing ACE Portal Account owners should follow instructions in Section B.2 below. Current ACE account holders must request an exporter account view within their existing portal account to access these functions. An existing ACE user who requests an ACE Exporter Portal Account will be asked to provide corporate and contact information to complete the process.

The account owner for new and existing ACE portal accounts may register additional EINs for subsidiary business units. To do so, the account owner must first register the principal EIN and then add subsidiary EINs to the account. A company operating under a single EIN will be designated as the account owner upon registration. If a subsidiary EIN is added to the account that has not yet been verified by CBP, the Census Bureau must vet and approve the newly added EIN before the subsidiary can access the Exporter Portal Account.

ACE test participants must agree to the “Terms and Conditions for Account Access of the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) Portal.” See 72 FR 27632 (May 16, 2007) and 73 FR 38464 (July 7, 2008). New ACE users will be prompted to accept these Terms and Conditions during the application process. Upon completion of the application process, the applicant will receive an email message and be prompted to log in with the exporter’s username and password which will create the ACE Exporter Portal Account. Once an account is created, the exporter will be provided with “exporter view” from the exporter home page.
